

Conflict Management and Breakaways

We have designed a specific course to help deal with the increasing threats that your staff may face on a daily basis. It identifies the need to train your staff Under the Health and Safety at Work Act Section 2, where employees and employers have a duty of care not only to the employee but to the financial risk put upon the company by any claim or compensation on it.

This course deals with conflict, possible violent situations, dealing with aggression, bullying and intimidating behaviour of a challenging manner in the interest of personal safety in the workplace and whilst out and about.

By having a sound knowledge of effective communication skills and the ability to recognise and respond effectively will provide and assist individuals and the organisation with the necessary tools to prevent or reduce incidents. In turn, this will reflect on the professional image of the organisation and its staff.

The course will achieve its aim to reduce violent incident through individual experiences, group discussions, group work and case studies.
